Springdale News
By Mrs. Annie Hahn
On Thursday, May 15, the Ladies' Auxiliary of Springdale Presbyterian Church went in several autos to the home of Mrs. Walter Heick in Henry County, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Auxiliary Home Mission work. A program of the church work was carried out and plans were made for a bazaar to be held November 20. Thirty-one ladies and children and the pastor, Rev. T. C. Henderson, had a very enjoyable day in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heick.
The last Fellowship supper of the season at the church was held on Thursday evening, May 22. Mr. Carroll Hadden gave a picture show which was enjoyed, especially by the little folks.
The Silent Cook met Wednesday at the home of Miss Katie Stutenberger. Those present were, Mesdames Charlie Natchand, Charles Kramer, Charles Maddox, Ed Natchand, John Laumann, P. Natchand, Carl Kramer, Annie Hahn, Fred Stutenberger, Ed Roederer, Misses Elsie Natchand, Edith Dietrich, Katie Stutenberger and little David Ray Deibel. Daily Vacation Bible School will begin at Springdale Church Monday, June 9, and continue for two weeks. The bus will bring the children each day and the mothers can have the children ready to meet the bus.
The next Homemakers meeting will meet on Tuesday, June 10, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Smiser, instead of at the church as has been announced.
Commencement exercises were held Thursday evening at Anchorage High School and it is a pleasure to announce the winners of a High School certificate: Elizabeth Brickley, Billy Joe Freibert, Virginia Murray, Richard Simcoe, Jack Littrell, Peggy Schneidmiller, Marjorie Marshall and Peggy Littrell.
Miss Kathryn Kramer, who is so well-known to so many of us, was first honor student at Jefferson. Seventy-five pupils also received diplomas on Sunday at the Kentucky Military Institute commencement. Governor Simeon Willis was the principal speaker.

Solitude News

Mrs. Paul B. Roby, Mrs. Rachel Bean, Misses Freda Roby and Misses Jennie and Nora Bridwell spent last Thursday in Louisville shopping.
Capt. C. G. Bridwell, of Louisville, is in Georgia under the doctor's care. He is a nephew of Mrs. Nettie Roby and Mr. R. L. Bridwell and sisters here.
The farmers of this section have not made much progress farming, owing to so much rainy weather. Some tobacco has been set and a few fields of corn planted.
Cedar Glade School, which was being taught by Billy Ray Couch, has closed.
Messrs. O. E. Grigsby and Paul Keene were here one day the past week overseeing some work on their farm.
Mr. R. L. Bridwell and sisters, Misses Jennie and Nora, were entertained dinner last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ford Roby of Valley View. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roby, Sr., and Misses Maylene and Jeanneene, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roby, Jr., and Donna Lee and Robert Ray, of Whitfield, and Mr. and Mrs. George Baird, of Louisville. A delicious dinner was served and the day was very enjoyable.

HOMEMAKERS FAIRMOUNT
On Tuesday, May 28, the Fairmount Homemakers' Club held their regular monthly meeting at 10 a. m. in the home of Mrs. C. C. Smith, on Johnson Schoolhouse Road. Mrs. Orville Miller, our president, opened the meeting.
Miss Lucy Gibson gave us a very interesting lesson on electrical appliances, and we learned about the new washers which save time and labor. Mrs. Lee Markwell gave our landscape lesson.
A report on what we have learned and did the past year followed:
Mrs. Farmer gave us a lesson on how to make earrings and brooches and each member made a pair and some members made as high as three pairs, and we each made aluminum ash trays. Many beautiful lamp shades were made for which two separate days were set aside for making same. Some hats, dresses, purses, aprons, hats, and many Christmas decorations and gifts. Flowers were exchanged in the spring and the club members met two days to sew for the Sunshine Lodge. Many useful garments were made and donated to the Lodge for the children. About 200 garments were made and donated, consisting of shoes, dresses, pants, sweaters, pinafores, skirts, shirts, gowns, slips, socks, sunsuits and hats.
Our chaplain gave the devotional.
After a delightful luncheon, served by the hostess, the meeting again came to order and 19 members answered roll call. We were happy to have two new members join our club, Mrs. J. Thurman and Mrs. Ina Noble.
Mr. Craik gave us an interesting lesson in Red Cell and the more lesson will complete our course, which every one has enjoyed very much.
We planned our vacation tour through Kentucky, and Mammoth Cave.
The meeting adjourned for recreation. Games were played and enjoyed by all. We are to meet with Mrs. Wilson Reynolds in June—Mrs. J. D. Holloway, publicity chairman.

Little Bonnie and David Kercher are happy to have a little sister named Maybeth, who arrived recently with her mother from St. Anthony's Hospital. She has black hair like father and the other children are blonde like mother. They are grand-children of Mrs. Chinn, now living at Anchorage.

Mrs. S. S. Foss left on a train around 7 p.m. Monday for Greenville, S. C. to visit her daughter, Mrs. Ryan, the grand-children and also great grand-children.

Valley Park Open For Planned Recreation

Valley Park, which opened May 30, is offering a variety of amusements and recreational activities for this year, and a special play program has been planned.

Activities include football, tennis, basketball, croquet, volleyball, badminton, shuffleboard, checkers, table tennis, leather sports and music, with instruction for beginners.

The park is open to the public from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., and an entry blank upon application will enable participation in any activity.

Lois Adams, of Valley High School, is in charge of playground activities; O. M. Lassiter, assistant principal, Lee Murphy, superintendent of the playground, J. C. Cantrell, Valley basketball coach, will share with Herb Lewis, Valley football and track coach, operation of the swimming pool. Softball to play, already organized and ready to play, except an exciting season.

The Valley Park Board stresses the fact that the park is for clean and good conduct. The management promises to see to it.

Mr. F. K. Ryan, who was sent on business to Cincinnati and drove up from Greenville, S. Bible School Vacation Begins At Shively

Bible study, music, handwork, motion pictures, supervised recreation, and other features, not to speak of alluring refreshments, a young people's summer vacation Bible School, at Shively, for two weeks, June 2-13, opened Monday morning from 9 to 12, and with the hope of more than 300. Registration has been assuring. The announcement comes from the Rev. B. P. Mitchell, pastor of the Shively Baptist Church. A parade Memorial Day, was a preliminary. An all school picnic will end the two weeks program. Chartered buses will provide transportation to and from the school. Refreshments will be served. Ages are from 3 to 16 and everything is free for registrants, it is announced.

Thatcher Poem Exalts Work On Canal

In commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Panama Canal, the "big ditch," which serves the whole world and make it unnecessary for ships to go around "The Horn" saving hundreds of miles in marine traffic, not to speak of time conservation, Ex-Governor Maurice H. Thatcher, now practicing law in Washington, D. C., wrote a poem paying high tribute to the brave workmen who toiled, and others, like engineers, designers, trainmen, "electrical wizards," and others who risked yellow fever and arrested death to make it a reality. While commissioned there, Thatcher had an opportunity to see and appreciate the activities of Uncle Sam's great and expensive undertaking.

Began in 1882, the canal, 50 miles in length and on a strip ten miles wide called the Canal Zone, is a lock and lake canal proving its great value through two World Wars.

Of a dozen stanzas of Mr. Thatcher's poem, of which the writer recently received a copy one reads:

"Whatever the call, whatever the task,
Each one serve for a single end;
So fair his service that none could ask
Better result, or aught amend.
He named the hole, and the hole's home;
He mixed the pores, and filled the form;
Into cores he pumped the silt and loam;
And carved not in sun or storm."

NOT PROFITEERING.
BUT JUST BUSINESS.
A newspaper dealer, Samuel Galewitz, New York, admitted before House members in Washington that he had bought 10,500 tons of newspaper at $82.50 a ton, resold it at $160 a ton, and the man who bought it resold it to the Miami Herald for as high as $180, but Galewitz firmly maintained that was not "profiteering."

VACATION DAYS ARE NEAR AT HAND

The month of June, despite the recent rains and cool spells, suggests early vacation time, and to this end the Division of State Parks, Department of Conservation, Frankfort, has issued an attractive illustrated map-folder done in color and showing places of interest and other interest in the State.

The folder can be conveniently made for 15 cents, and is free upon application. It not only shows location of all Kentucky State parks and recreation spots, but gives rates charged at house-keeping vacation cabins, park admission charges, and other valuable data for tourist or casual visitor.

A NEW QUESTION OF EXPENSE PAYMENTS UP

County Attorney Sam Steinfeld has asked the Circuit Court to tell him if the City-County Board of Health has the right to pay expenses of its people attending educational conventions. The City Law Department will defend this right, it is said.

SMOKE RINGS

By Charlie Yettner

Calling Doc Bill Watson, "Whitney" Sheelin, Rudy Fiedlerberger and Florence Holton of Beechland—have you been down to see the face-lifting job given your playground by the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board?

You're right—it's really playtime in Jefferson County now with all of your playgrounds in the pink of condition and ready for opening Monday, June 9, at 10 a.m.

Lewis Wymond, Mrs. C. C. Phillips, Barlow Brooks, Mrs. Pine No. 389 and Milton Prentz, Mrs. B. H. Dean, Luke Brown, Mrs. James McCracken, Kenton Smith and Mrs. H. H. and their crusading friends at Jefferson.

Enough can not be said for the work of Mrs. Marshall Krieger, Mrs. A. Wiggan, Milton Prentz, Mrs. B. H. Dean, Luke Brown, Mrs. James McCracken, Kenton Smith and Mrs. H. H. and their crusading friends at Jefferson.

Did you know that the Jefferson County Recreation Committee is running a school bus to pick up youngsters from the Jefferson County Recreation Board at all day conference called for the purpose of establishing rural and semi-rural recreation program similar to that of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board all over the State of Minnesota.

Representatives from all sections of Minnesota will gather at Duluth to hear the Jefferson County recreation director explain the setup in Jefferson County. Leading authorities of the country have expressed amazement at the rapid progress made in recreation in Jefferson County when Kentucky as a whole lags so near the bottom of the ladder in this respect.

The Jefferson County program of recreation is sponsored jointly by the Jefferson County Fiscal Court and the County Board of Education. These organizations have received national commendation for the creation and sponsorship of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board.

BERRYTOWN COUNCIL
The monthly Recreation Council meeting was called to order at 8:30 p.m. May 5, in Berrytown, by the president, Mr. N. Goodwin. All centers were present except Jeffersontown.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved after corrections. Each center made reports on activities of previous month and on other matters of interest.

A guest speaker, Mrs. Bertha Callery, who was furnished by Miss Brown of Harrods Creek, spoke on "Youth and Adult Recreation in the Community." Mrs. Lucas and all supervisors that attended the spring training program were present.

After which the desks were moved back and some of the games and songs, which supervisors had for the training sessions, were played. The most popular were "Four Horse and Rider" and "The Little Red Train on the Track." Refreshments were served. Discussed by Mrs. W. Kennedy—Warden Dorsey, reporter.

Playgrounds Open Monday, June 9

Twenty-two playgrounds of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board will open Monday, June 9, at 10 a.m.

Word from J.T.own has it that the Jeffersontown swimmers are going to be hard to beat in this summer. The same word came from Pete Bishop about High View and from Harry Rader about Fairview. It's going to be a great summer in Jefferson County—that much is certain! See you at the pool.

28 GRADUATE AT ST. HELL'S JUNE 3

A welcome address by Mary A. Wilke, prophecies by Patsy Whistler, and "Last Will and Testament" by Lois Beam with music and prayer, were preliminaries to a farewell address by Charles Gramig and distribution of diplomas and an address by Father Newman at the graduation exercises of St. Helen's School in the school hall Tuesday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock. A box solo, "The Circle Song" was rendered by Suzanne Kitterer in addition to class songs. There were 28 graduates.

General Hospitals in Kentucky need 6,194 beds, according to a survey made by the State Board of Health, as reported to Governor Letcher by the Hospital Advisory Council of 11 members at a meeting May 29 in Louisville.

THE FIRST GASOLINE automobile in the United States was invented by C. B. Duryea in 1892.

County Recreation In National Line Light

The program of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is in the national line-light again. Although only three years old the recreation program of Jefferson County has been consistently recognized nationally since last summer when the Junior Olympics, put on at July at Fairdale, caused the national spotlight to focus on it for the first time.

Now, with the Jefferson County recreation program being proclaimed the pattern recreation program of the nation at the Mid-West Recreation Conference sponsored by the National Recreation Association in April at Indianapolis, the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is being called on for many parts of the United States to let other states and counties in on its method of procedure.

Governor Starnes' Advisory Committee on Recreation in Minnesota has called on the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board to send its director, Charlie Yettner, to Duluth, Minnesota on June 12th to explain the model program at an all day conference called for the purpose of establishing rural and semi-rural recreation program similar to that of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board all over the State of Minnesota.

Recreation Board will open Monday, June 9, in all parts of Jefferson County. An elaborate summer program has been prepared and all of the playgrounds are staffed with expertly trained supervisors.

Facilities available on the playgrounds are swimming pools, tennis courts, archery ranges, horseshoe courts, golf courses, picnicking facilities, baseball diamonds, softball diamonds, track, tennis courts and miniature airports for "U" controlled planes.

Jefferson County playgrounds are open to boys and girls, ages 3 to 18, at all times, with special attention to younger children in the mornings and early afternoons.

Arts, craft, music and playground dramatics will be emphasized for the benefit of the younger age groups. Tonette bands and rhythm bands will flourish on the playgrounds of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board this summer.

County-wide events, such as swimming meets, track meets, junior olympics, softball tournaments, tennis tournaments, horse shoe pitching tournaments and other competitive events are scheduled. Jefferson County will be a happy place this summer.

Valley Girl Scores With Teen-Age Booklet

Ann Sanders, attractive blonde teen age leader from Viking Harbor teen age Club at Valley Station, has done what recreation leaders everywhere in the country have been hoping a teen ageer would do. She has prepared a booklet, "Teen-Age Club," presenting a teen ageer's view point. Adult leaders in the field of recreation have advocated various ideas concerning Youth Clubs, but there has always been a definite need for the views of the young people themselves.

Miss Sanders, daughter of Rev. L. M. (Max) Sanders, chairman of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, and Mrs. Sanders, absorbed a lot of club work everywhere.

her father's enthusiasm and love for recreation and stands in her composition that she intends to make recreation her life's work because of the good it can accomplish for both young and old people alike.

Ann's booklet, "Teen-Age Club," is so covering and carries so much value for those interested in Youth Centers and teen age problems that Charlie Yettner, director of Jefferson County Recreation, has had a number of the booklets prepared and is placing one in the hands of every Teen-Age Club associated with the program of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board.

The National Recreation Association of New York City has asked for a copy and Mrs. Ann Sanders, nationally known conductor of recreation training institutes for the National Recreation Association, praised the composition highly and asked for a copy to submit to the official magazine of the Association which is known as "RECREATION."

Miss Sanders is one of the organizers of Viking Harbor, a Teen-Age Club associated with the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board at Valley Station. Many articles were a show-stopper because of its originality of decoration. Last summer, Ann, accompanied by her father, Mr. Sanders and Mrs. Sanders, scoured the countryside in search of anchors, life buoys, life preservers, row ropes and any other parts of boats and ships which were available. The trip to the coast was to the Coast Guard Station and the Jeffersonville Boat and Machine Co. among other places. Many articles were found and were used to decorate Viking Harbor to resemble a ship. Ann's one ambition was to get an anchor for the club and one was found at Jeff Boat and Machine Co., but it weighed approximately 1,000 pounds and was impractical—so the search for an anchor goes on.

Miss Sanders has authorized the Director of Jefferson County Recreation to use her booklet in any way which will be of value to the future progress of Teen-Age Club work everywhere.

Fewer And Larger Farms In Kentucky

Kentucky has 14,993 fewer farms now than five years ago, according to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington. Farms, while only slightly larger, are more highly mechanized and far more productive.

than 25 years ago or even five years ago. Tractors on Kentucky farms have more than doubled in the past five years, even during the war when machinery was difficult to get. Kentucky farmers now have 25,000 tractors.

Corn acreage in Kentucky was reduced by 110,000 acres from 1940 to 1945. Growing corn on stronger land, using hybrid corn, better rotations and being "laid out" with good weather, Kentucky farmers have just about maintained total corn production. Alfalfa production has increased over 50 percent or about 83,000 acres. Tobacco acreage, while showing only a three percent increase from 1940 to 1945, showed a 30 percent increase in yields, resulting in well over 1,100 pounds per acre.

For Garden Without Pests Dust Early with D.D.T.

Cover the Plants With a Cloud of Dust Which Leaves a Light Coating Over All Leaves, on Both Sides.

The battle to control insect pests should begin in the home vegetable garden in the spring, when plants are young and before they have been damaged by insects. Since D.D.T. became available to home gardeners, methods of fighting insect pests have been greatly simplified. This new material destroys so many different insects that it is simpler to list those which it does not kill, and against which other destructive means must be used.

Vegetable garden pests against which D.D.T. is ineffective, include the Mexican bean beetle, tomato worm, and cabbage, turnip and melon aphids. If lady cucumber beetles and squash borers, but in some cases is reported to have injured plants of cucumber, squash and melons, so its use on these subjects is not yet recommended.

Against leafhoppers which attack beans, potatoes and other plants, and flea beetles, which attack potatoes, tomatoes and egg plant, D.D.T. does an excellent job, better by far than any other material which was previously known. Both the kind of cabbage worms, the European corn borer, aphids on peas and potatoes, the Japanese beetle, Colorado potato beetle, and most other pests of ornamental plants, but not the red spider mite.

All the common insect pests which D.D.T. does not kill can be destroyed by rotenone, which is available this year in ample supply.

Others, the Kentucky farmer has his problems. Some are of the moment and correctable—others are venustas, such as shortleg and inflation. Profits vanish when too much has to be paid for machinery and labor. City prices frequently stomp him when he desires to make purchase of what he cannot produce on the farm. The food situation doesn't bother him as it does with the city man of low or medium income. He gets his fresh from the garden, though he uses baker's bread. The Army Jeep is finding a place on the farm, increasingly, "on its merits."

June Is The Month For More Milk Sales

J. O. (Jack) Matlack, State Chairman of the June Dairy Month Committee, and editor of The Farmers Home Journal—(Kentucky Farmer), is elated over the co-operation promised and being given by milk producers, milk handlers, grocers, drug stores, restaurants, hotels, all working to further popularize dairy products, build sales.

The June drive, accompanied by advertising, other forms of promotion, has been taken up by civic clubs, service clubs, commerce boards and others all over the State.

A wide variety of events, Mr. Matlack says, "will feature the value of milk, as well as tell the many ways it may be used by the family."

Producers and handlers are joining Kentucky farmers in the slogan: "Sales Not Surplus."

Making Money By Not Making Hay

For dairymen the well worn maxim on making hay when the sun shines can be revised to "Make money by not making hay." Make silage instead, from first and second cut alfalfa. The gain works out as the result of actual experience at the Research Center of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md., in the harvesting of alfalfa for dairy cows.

When with ideal hay making weather, the farmer who cures his hay in the field loses more than a third of the protein between the cutting and the feeding. The protein is destroyed by the various steps in haying and storing the alfalfa. Some loss is unavoidable, but it can be cut in half if the alfalfa is stored in the field instead of in the hay mow. In one test at Beltsville analysis showed a loss of 264 pounds of protein to the acre from alfalfa stored as hay and 127 pounds loss when made into silage. The Bureau of Dairy Industry which cooperated with the Bureau of Plant Industry, Soils, and Agricultural Engineering, in the test, says that silage converts the value of the 127 pounds of protein saved to its equivalent in line of milk. This would be $15.00 when the milk is selling at 4 cents a pound.

Good Beech Lumber Still Available

Hard, fine-grained, beech logs, saved into plant and ten foot lengths, and evidently from trees possibly 100 years old, passed through Jeffersontown Monday by truck on their way to R. E. Patterson's mill on the Hopewell Road. With bark removed such logs serve extensively for tool manufacturing and other useful purposes. Mr. Patterson obtained them in Louisville and he said he now has some 6,000 feet of this choice lumber with more than 100 pieces more plentiful.

The great American forests, now under conservation restrictions, are yielding only a limited supply, but lumber dealers are hopeful of more permitted for emergency construction.

THE GARDEN

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

THE MEXICAN BEAN BEETLE
If Mexican bean beetles run true to form, the apparently settled warm weather now should cause a season not to their liking. It is quite likely, however, that if late enough will survive to multiply into a normal population by mid-summer.

Accordingly, it is advisable to take the "hardshell," and then for their eggs, laid in clusters on the underside of the leaves. When the first eggs are seen, applying the control material should start, with upturned nozzles to put it where, and only where, it can be effective against this pest.

Calcium arsenate and lime, 1 part to 8, may be used as a dust, or magnesium arsenate in a spray 3 level tablespoons per gallon of water, but only before any pods have set, as arsenic is poisonous to humans as well as to bean beetles. After podding starts only rotenone is safe to use, in 34 percent dust, or in spray made of rotenone concentrate and water, after the manufacturer's instructions.

Ten days later, when all the eggs of that generation may be assumed to have been laid, a second application should be made to cover the leaves that have formed meantime. If good jobs were done, that garden should be free of bean beetles for the season, except for immigrants from beans of a neighbor who had less concern for the marvelous multiplying power of the Mexican beetle.

Two other pests may attack beans, the Southern bean beetle and the spotted cucumber beetle, that make round holes in the leaves of early plantings. These holes are unsightly but seldom serious, for neither of these pests stay on beans long and they do not raise their families there. Further injury may be stopped by spraying or dusting as above, but topside of the leaves, as these are the clover pests the Mexican beetle is, but are killed quite as easily as the Colorado beetle on potatoes.

Farm Bureau To Study Legislative Matters

Tobacco problems, rural medical care needs and many other things affecting farm welfare in Kentucky will get a thorough round of discussion at four state-wide Farm Bureau meetings to be held the week of June 23 in Louisville, announces L. F. Allen, Bowling Green, president.

Heading the list is the Federation's quarterly Board meeting and June 24. The major item on this session's agenda is the study of the organization's policy statement and resolutions to determine paramount legislative issues.

Scottigan Jones, Jefferson County president will represent the county.

ELKHORN BAPTISTS OPPOSE GAMBLING FOR CHARITY
A resolution made public May 27 by the Elkhorn Association of Baptists deplores efforts of some groups seeking to exempt gambling for charitable causes from Lexington's all-inclusive crack-down on all games of chance.
The resolution passed the last Fayette County grand jury for its "fair and fearless reports and suggestions." The City Commission had been petitioned to omit games of chance for charity.

"Sin is sin whether committed in gutter or garden," the resolution stated, adding, "Righteousness is first—charity second."
